

Privacy policy

This website collects personal information from its users insofar as necessary to smoothly run its services (including providing information on its web pages and receiving users' opinions).

In collecting, using, and handling personal information, the Tokyo Metropolitan Government takes proper measures as described below, based on the "Act on the Protection of Personal Information" (Law No.57 of 2003), and endeavors to provide a website that everyone can use with peace of mind.

Definition of Privacy Policy

The Tokyo Metropolitan Government (The implementing body*) receives personal information, such as names, phone numbers, email addresses, and other personally identifiable information via the use of this website.

* "Implementing body" refers to those that handle the relevant personal information, namely the Governor of Tokyo, administrative commissions, the directors of public enterprises, Fire Chief, and the directors of administrative bodies stipulated by Tokyo Metropolitan Government regulations.

Scope of Privacy Policy

This privacy policy applies only to this website and does not apply to sites this website may have links to.

The handling of information on linked websites falls under the responsibility of the respective owners/providers.

Collection of personal information

As a general rule, the personal information the Tokyo Metropolitan Government (implementing body) collects via this website is voluntarily provided (registered) by users. The purpose for collecting that personal information will be stated.

The Tokyo Metropolitan Government limits the collection of personal information to what is necessary to achieve the purposes specified to users.

Purpose for the collection of personal information

The Tokyo Metropolitan Government (the implementing body) handles personal information via the use of this website in the scope of the purpose of utilization as follows.

- Contact, inquiries, notification of the event, and other matters deemed necessary for the operation of this event.
- Distribution of information on startup-related measures taken by the Tokyo Metropolitan Government, etc.

Restrictions on the use of personal information

The Tokyo Metropolitan Government (the implementing body) uses personal information provided (registered) by users only for the purposes specified as follows.

Name, phone number, email address: To contact the holder.

The relevant implementing body* will never use this personal information outside the purposes stated at collection, nor will this personal information be conveyed to any parties other than the implementing body, unless otherwise specified by law.

However, statistical data on user attributes, etc., obtained through the operation of this website, may be made public, but this data will not contain personal information.

Handling of personal information

The Tokyo Metropolitan Government (implementing body) will handle all collected personal information securely and carefully and take proper measures to prevent any unauthorized disclosure, use, alteration, etc.

The management of this website may be entrusted to an external party. This contractor will also take proper measures in an identical manner to the described above.

Non-personally identifying information

This website automatically collects information on Internet domain names, IP addresses, and the user environment in which the website is viewed (hereinafter referred to as "non-personally identifiable information").

This website limits the collection of non-personally identifiable information to what is necessary to improve the usability of this website, and this information will only be used for that purpose.

However, statistical access data and user environment data for this website may be released to the public.
